HOW TO KEEP UP WITH THE LITERATURE OF ADULT EDUCATION

The ERIC Clearinghouse on Adult Education (ERIC/AE) publications listed here will help you obtain reports and a wide range of other documents more easily than we would have dreamed possible a few years ago. These special ERIC/AE publications range from subject bibliographies with abstracts, to substantial reviews, surveying large bodies of literature and prepared by subject experts. They may be obtained from the ERIC Document Reproduction Service. (Please see instructions and order form at the end of this publication.)

Adult Leadership, the Training and Development Journal, the Mass Media Newsletter and several other adult education periodicals also carry regular announcements of new documents in the ERIC system.

Research in Education. This monthly abstract bulletin announces all documents entering ERIC each month from ERIC/AE and from the other 18 Clearinghouses. It has subject, author and institutional indexes, together with full information for obtaining documents. This standard abstract journal is widely available in education libraries, school systems and wherever educators are using the literature of the field. If you need to follow current publications in your work, you should insist that this resource be conveniently available to YOU. See page 47 for ordering information.

Current Index to Journals in Education. This monthly abstract journal covers more than 250 educational periodicals. Currently 15 periodicals important to the education and training of adults are covered by ERIC/AE and this coverage will be extended in 1970, when annotations of all articles will also be included. This, also, seems to me an indispensible resource for adult educators who keep up with best practice and thinking in their work. This service is necessarily somewhat expensive for individual subscriptions, so, if you need this resource, you should insist that your school system, university, company or other agency make it available to you in a convenient location. See page 47 for further information.

These two sources enable you to follow the best and most important literature on a monthly basis. They include many useful documents entered by the other Clearinghouses in the ERIC system. And they will always announce all the special publications of ERIC/AE and the other Clearinghouses.

THE KEYS TO ERIC USE ARE RESEARCH IN EDUCATION AND CURRENT INDEX TO JOURNALS IN EDUCATION.

ERIC Document Collections. Since standing orders to all ERIC microfiche documents are so inexpensive, these complete ERIC collections, with the cumulated indexes needed to use them, are now widely available in education libraries, regional and Title III centers and in other agencies.

This enables you quickly to locate documents by author or by subject, to inspect the microfiche document, and, usually, to copy parts of it. Since the subject indexing is detailed and somewhat different than the subject headings most of us are accustomed to use in libraries, you will want to browse in the Thesaurus of ERIC Descriptors, for it will help you locate the exact terms we have used to index the concept in which you are interested. You will not find everything under "adult education," but will often need to use such terms as "adult basic education," "parent education," "correspondence study," "university extension," or others that make your search quicker and more direct.

A convenient guide to using ERIC is described on page 48.

We have included in this listing all special ERIC/AE publications through September 1967, references to basic ERIC Catalogs and some samples of outstandingly useful publications of the other Clearinghouses.

Your Help. ERIC coverage depends on your help in supplying useful documents, especially those that are not in standard published sources. Put us on your mailing list and be sure we receive copies (two, if convenient, for one is destroyed in making microfiche) of any document, research or other, published or not, which you judge might be of use or interest to your colleagues. Many thanks.

LITERATURE REVIEWS, RESEARCH REGISTERS, AND OTHERS

ADULT EDUCATION AND THE DISADVANTAGED ADULT
Anderson, Darrell and Niemi, John A.
ERIC Clearinghouse on Adult Education, Syracuse, New York
April 1969. 111p.
EDRS Order Number: ED 029 160. Price: microfiche $0.50; hard copy $6.65

ABSTRACT:
The concern of this study was to examine the role of education in altering the social and personal characteristics of disadvantaged adults. Data were collected through a review of the literature and have been limited mainly to research reports on remedial adult education programs. Findings showed that the disadvantaged, who are hampered by psychological disabilities, have the lowest income, the largest families, the poorest education, the highest incidence of ill health, the least chance of employment, and little promise of a better future. Largely because of discrimination, the poverty subculture is compelled to evolve its own way of life, and programs of change seem doomed if they adhere to established patterns of contact. These programs should cope with the fundamental problem of overcoming the resistance of the disadvantaged to education. Specific details of educational planning to solve the problems inherent in programs designed for such adults are unavailable because of the scarcity of research. (Included are test instruments, an analysis of the programs, and extensive bibliography, instructions on ordering ERIC publications, and a list of other ERIC/AE publications.)

Six journals in the area are included, and 13 English-language documents with abstracts. ERIC Clearinghouse on Adult Education, Syracuse, New York
February 1968, 23p.
EDRS Order Number: ED 015 412. Price: microfiche $0.25; hard copy $1.25

ABSTRACT:
A model of information services for the adult education profession provides for--(1) access to the literature through bibliographies, reviews, and mechanized retrieval, (2) physical access (mainly in microform), (3) specialized information services linked with one another and the ERIC Clearinghouse on Adult Education, (4) coordination, research, and training for adult educators and information service professionals, (5) improved means of handling such special documents as curriculum materials and aids, foreign language documents, program information, and historical and archival materials, and (6) long-range financial support, probably by the federal government. The ERIC Clearinghouse on Adult Education provides some elements of this model system, in acquiring, processing, and disseminating information about current documents. The next step is to involve many agencies and persons in providing retrospective bibliographies, reviews and interpretations of research, and interpretative essays. ERIC/AE has a large and growing collection of documents, abstracted and deeply indexed, which could be a useful resource.
